

TRIPULSE

Join the fast race to slow fashion!

Did you know the number of new styles released by brands is up 19% from 2020? The race to slow fashion is officially on. Get ready, get set, go...

Slow style...

Pace yourself. Chasing a trend that's here one minute and gone the next will only leave you exhausted. Instead, choose clothing designed to last in the long run. With timeless styles and high-quality fabrics, our innovative natural activewear has stamina.

Slow and steady wins the race

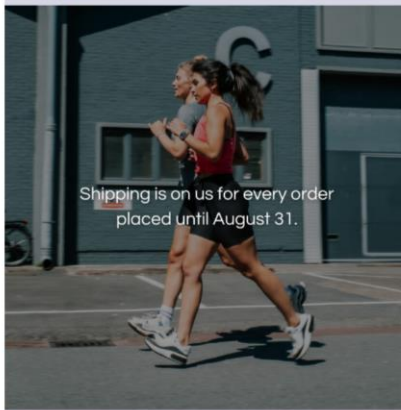

It takes a lot to make slow fashion, which is exactly why we're doing a lot. Our holistic approach to sustainability infuses everything we do, from our strict social standards and fabric choices, our design approach to our commitment to be climate positive. It's a marathon, not a sprint, after all.

Sustainable shopping = better for the planet and your wallet

Where cheap synthetic items are designed for a couple of wears, sustainable items are made to last, making them a much better deal in the long run.

But we get it. Shopping sustainably can seem expensive at first. That's why we've come up with 3 ways to keep the cost of your Tripulse purchase down.

(P.S. If you place an order before the 31st of August, we'll cover the shipping cost for you!)

3 ways to make your Tripulse purchase more cost-effective

1. Shop ZeroWaste

Check out our ZeroWaste Shop to find 'perfectly imperfect' items at a reduced price.

2. Make it last

Because of its natural antibacterial fabric, you don't have to wash your Tripulse activewear after every use. Scan the QR code on each product label to learn more about making your clothes last. We also recommend washing or rinsing in cool temperatures and air-drying.

3. Buy now for free shipping!

Keep the cost down by buying now! To celebrate our Climate Neutral recertification for 2022 and the launch of the ZeroWaste Shop, shipping is on us until the 31st of August.

Put to the test

How do we create a piece of clothing that can withstand high-intensity workouts? We put it to the test.

Our USER-CENTRIC DESIGN means we involve athletes and fitness enthusiasts in the entire development process:

- Round 1: Understanding user needs
- Round 2: Developing the design
- Round 3: Testing the final prototypes

And if they endure all 3? We know we've created a product that YOU will love.

Have you tried our bestseller yet?

Our bestselling leggings have passed the test. They're ultra-comfortable, highly breathable, and long-lasting. But BE QUICK as popular sizes are selling out fast.
